EXTRADITION OF EX-KAISER WILL NOT BE DEMANDED BY THE GERMANS

BY ALFRED G. ANDERSON.
Berlin, August 4.—Dr. Hans Delbrück, acting minister of justice, today declared that Germany does not intend to demand the extradition of the ex-Kaiser from Holland.
"The fact that the old German constitution made the ministers responsible for all of the former Kaiser's official acts guaranteed him immunity so far as Germany is concerned," said Dr. Delbrück. "Furthermore, the German laws preclude extradition for political offenders."
Asked for an opinion upon the proposal before the national assembly to create a state court for the trial of war offenders, Dr. Delbrück said:
"As framed by the government the bill provides for the establishment of the tribunal with functions similar to those exercised by an American jury. They will be empowered only to hand down a verdict relative to the course of the war and responsibility for continuation of the conflict. No German law exists under which a defendant could be punished for such offenses even if found guilty. The possibility remains, however, that the national assembly may enact special legislation for this purpose.

"The tribunal likely will sit at Leipzig, as that is where the supreme court meets."
Delbrück said that in his opinion Germany is hoping that the entente will abandon the clause of the peace treaty providing for the extradition of the ex-Kaiser. The special provision in the peace pact that the persons to be extradited must be delivered by Germany within a month after the entente powers ratify the treaty is criticized by the Germans as impossible of fulfillment, according to Dr. Delbrück. "There would be special difficulty," he said, "in the case of Germans who refused to surrender voluntarily."
"This would be simple in the case of well known persons like Von Hindenburg and Ludendorff, whose whereabouts are known. But lesser known officials might easily hide or escape from Germany."

CITY MANAGER RIDDLE SPEAKS BEFORE CITY MANAGERS MEETING

Xenia people will be interested in the publicity given City Manager Kenyon Riddle in the Fifth Year Book of the City Manager's Association, which has just been issued.
It is gleaned from the city manager data included in the book, that out of the 120 city managers of the Association, only two managers have attended all of the five annual conventions held in the United States since the first one in Springfield, Ohio, in 1914, and only two have attended four of these conferences, City Manager Kenyon Riddle being one of the latter.
Mr. Riddle also enjoys the distinction of being the third oldest manager in years of service in the United States, having started in the municipal managerial job in 1913. C. E. Ashburner, formerly of Springfield, was the pioneer, starting in 1908, in Staunton, Va., and going from Springfield back to Norfolk, Va. The second oldest is R. Stuart Boyer of Fredericksburg, Va., who started there in 1912.
It is another interesting fact to note that the statistics show that there are only three younger managers than Mr. Riddle who are now bossing cities. The five conventions held by the Association have been held in Springfield, Ohio, Dayton, Ohio, Springfield, Mass., Detroit, Mich., and Roanoke, Va., and Mr. Riddle came from Kansas at his own expense to attend three of the first four meetings and from Xenia to Roanoke to attend the last conference.
An individual picture of Mr. Riddle and another showing him in the group taken at the fifth convention at Roanoke, Va., are shown in the book. The following report was also made of Mr. Riddle's speech made at the fifth convention at Roanoke. The speech deals with "Administrative Duties and Problems."
"Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen: Five minutes isn't time enough in which to tell all of the problems of the city manager. I have jotted down a few of the problems I have had to face.
"I find that it is difficult to fix on good schemes for publicity. A manager hears most of the kicks and criticisms. The commission receives some, those that they don't receive directly from the people, the manager hands over to them if he has the time. Now, there ought to be some way to put these burdens on the shoulders of the people—that is where they belong.
"The manager in Ohio cities, as I find it the case in most cities, has financial difficulties to contend with. Operating expenses have increased, and cities have very little way of relieving themselves from this increased burden. I am sure that if the people understood the problems that come up before the manager regarding finances, they would be glad to increase the city's income.
"For instance, in our town, if we could get an additional one mill levy, it would raise $11,000. That $11,000 would make it possible for us to live within our income, by curtailing all our expenses down to the minimum. It would have to be put before the people. If they agreed that we ought to have it, we would get it.
"That would relieve us of a tremendous burden, because if we tried to cut our expenses so far as to live within our income at present, we would lay the city's property open to danger by not taking proper care of the drainage system, which might result in a flood causing $100,000 damage. We would have to reduce our police and fire systems so much, that our citizens would be subject to great loss of life and property.
"If we properly protect the people's property, we will go into debt. The question is which to do, whether to go into debt and do the thing right, or to speculate and try to live within income. But then, if we were to have some big damage, the people would come right back at the manager and say, 'well, what is the matter with you, why didn't you tell us that you were in trouble?'

"Comparisons are interesting. A man may smoke a five cent cigar; say he smokes six a week. That cigar has increased during the last two years to seven cents. That is an increase of two cents apiece on each cigar. If he smokes six cigars a week and three hundred a year, that comes to $6 for the increased price of cigars alone. If we were to increase our levy one mill, a citizen's property valued at $3,000, would bring us $3 additional, and the average citizen would kick like a steer at this increased price. But he will pay $6 additional on cigars without complaining.
"I wish the managers could discover the best means of putting these things before the people. The regular or yearly auditor's report doesn't help much. Newspaper publicity is good, but most newspapers won't devote much room to the city's business. If they take it, they want the legal price for it.
"The city publishes a yearly report, required by law. It usually takes up a full page and a half of the newspaper, itemizing expenditures. That doesn't mean anything to the people. This year we added a sort of summary of the first eight months of the city's business under the new form of government. We listed the expenditures and the cost per capita, for instance, for police protection, for fire protection, and so forth, which brings before the people's attention what a small item each is. For instance, it costs the people 70 cents per year for each $1,000 valuation for public service, including sanitary sewers, and all such items. Now, how can anybody argue that he isn't getting his full benefits for that?
"It all comes down to the final point that collective bargains are always cheaper than individual bargains. If we could get the people into the idea that they really get so much from the public corporation as they do from any other source, they ought to be willing to increase the revenue and give more money to the city, so as to allow the city to increase its functions."
Under the heading "achievement reports of city manager municipalities under war time conditions," the following is said of this city:
"Xenia, Ohio, population 10,000. Commission-manager charter, effective January, 1918. Kenyon Riddle, manager; salary, $3,000.
"In spite of the low tax rate and the increased expenses, Xenia finished the first year under the new plan with a credit balance approximating $3,000. The tax rate for ordinary operating expenses is but 2.6 mills, and for debt service 3.1 mills, making the annual cost of local government but $4 per capita. The total amount paid in salaries under the new form is less than the total under the old form, although individual salaries have been raised.
"City equipment is being motorized; a sewage disposal plant has been constructed and is maintained by work house labor at low cost. The use of prison labor in salvaging some 13 miles of copper wire from an abandoned fire alarm system has received high commendation from the U. S. Department of Commerce.
"Loss of saloon revenues; reduction of the tax rate, and the increased charge for water service, compelled by the Public Utilities Commission, constitute a difficult situation to be met this coming year."
MORE MEN GET CROSSES.
Washington, Aug. 4.—Eight more officers and men of the American Expeditionary forces and men of the American Expeditionary forces have been awarded distinguished service crosses, the war department announced.

AMERICA TO SEE BELGIUM'S FIGHTING KING AND HIS FAMILY THIS FALL.

POST OFFICE EMPLOYEES WANT 75 PER CENT RAISE

Columbus, O., August 4.—Columbus postoffice employees as a unit today asked the postoffice department for a 75 per cent increase in salary from July 1, 1919. In resolutions passed the postal clerks and carriers say the value of a dollar had dropped 48 per cent since the present scale of wages was fixed by the government and that in making their demand, they are simply acting "on their rights as citizens."
The situation is characterized as "distressing," and it is claimed that the present wage is barely enough to keep their families in the bare necessities.

NEARLY 200 HORSES ENTERED FOR SPEED CONTESTS AT FAIR

An entry list composed of 166 horses has been issued by the Greene County Fair board, showing the number of steppers that are now in the stables at the fair grounds or will be here before the first racing day.
Although the entry list closed Wednesday night there were a number of entries received after that which were mailed before the deadline and with these in, the entries are probably the largest that have marked the local fair for a long time. Among the horses are some lively steppers that are expected to help make things interesting at the local track this week. Stephen G. Phillips has been retained as starting judge.
Purses for each race amount to $300 and the entire purses for the three racing days aggregate $2,700. On Wednesday the events will be the 2:30 pace, 2:25 trot and the 2:11 pace. On Thursday there will be a 2:20 trot, a 2:20 pace and 2:16 trot. Friday's card will consist of a 2:25 pace, a 2:30 trot and a 2:15 pace. In the 2:30 pace J. W. Faulkner's mare, Hallie Cleato, is the only Xenia horse entered; Hallie Cleato is also scheduled in the 2:25 pace on Friday. Faulkner's mare, Frances D., is entered in the 2:11 pace on Friday. The owners represent cities all over this section of Ohio.
The race horses are now crowding the fancy horses for stable space at the fairgrounds and in some cases have usurped the stalls of the show animals.
OBEY TRAFFIC RULES AND AVOID ACCIDENTS
There will be no congested traffic or vehicle accidents if rules laid down by Chief of Police Canaday for Fair week are observed properly.
The traffic rules governing the days of the Fair provide that every vehicle going to the Fair grounds on any of the days, follow North Detroit street to the Fair Ground road and thence to the grounds. On returning they must turn off the Fairground road at King or Galloway streets and follow those streets to Main. In this way practically all traffic on these street will be going in the same direction and there will be little danger of congestion or accidents.
The traffic rules will be rigidly enforced by the Police Department and the extra traffic policemen.

America is to be honored this Fall by the visit of Belgium's fighting King and his entire family, according to a recent Washington dispatch. King Albert and Queen Elizabeth and their three children—the Duke of Brabant, Crown Prince of Belgium, Prince Charles Theodore, Count of Flanders, and Princess Marie Jose—are expected here in September.

CLAIMS THE RETAIL BUTCHERS ARE NOT AMONG PROFITEERS

Cleveland, August 4.—"The retail butcher is not a profiteer and never has been,"
This was the declaration here today by Charles Graemer, of Brooklyn, president of the united master butchers of America in Cleveland for the fourth convention of the organization which opens with a smoker tonight.
According to other members of the association, the high cost of living is to be given serious consideration by the convention and suggestions as to means of reducing the prices of meat will be discussed.
"There is no class of men that would rather see prices come to a normal basis than the retail butchers," said an official statement of the organization today. "The United States butchers association will gladly welcome lower prices."

NO FORMAL REPORT YET RECEIVED FROM THE PACIFIC FLEET

Washington, Aug. 4.—The navy department today had received no report from Admiral Rodman relative to the Pacific fleet into the earthquake or tidal wave which shook the various units off the western Mexican coast yesterday. Officials said this indicated no material damage had been done. The report dealing with the experiences would be made shortly, although officials said it was entirely possible that it would not be sent until the fleet has been anchored at port.

PLAN RECEPTION FOR RETURNED SOLDIERS

Jefferson Township is planning a big reception and celebration for the returned soldiers who went away from that district, which will be held in the Jefferson Township Centralized School Building on Saturday, Aug. 23.
The reception will be held at eight o'clock Saturday evening and is being conducted under the auspices of the three churches of Bowersville. It is planned to make the reception a large event and everyone in the community is not only invited but expected to be present.

CAMPERS START TO CAMP BY CANOE

The sixteen campers who will spend two weeks' vacation at Camp Smoky Hollow, along the Miami, below Oregon, got away early Monday morning, some of them going by canoes and others by train. Rev. George Cruise-man who was to cook for them was ill and could not go and so another cook was secured at once. Four canoes made the trip to the camp and the boys expected to arrive there before noon Monday.

OHIO WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION FUND IS FOUND SOLVENT

Columbus, O., August 4.—In a finding just made by E. H. Downey, of the Pennsylvania insurance department and Miles M. Dawson, actuary of New York, the Ohio workmen's compensation fund is found to be solvent and the management of the funds by the industrial commission is given an O. K. The low salaries of employees of the commission is criticized.
In the findings a clear surplus of more than $3,600,000 is found on March 1, 1919. The examiners say that "no general rate reductions can be safely made at this time."
The industrial commission is praised for paying full legal benefits to claimants, but the examiners point to "excessive delays" in the settlement of some claims.

STRICKEN WITH APOPLEXY AND DIES IN FEW MINUTES

Stricken by apoplexy, while at the supper table Saturday evening, Mrs. John A. Young well known Yellow Springs woman expired within a few moments.
"O, my head," exclaimed Mrs. Young, at the same moment falling back in her chair. Her husband lifted her to the couch but she only breathed a few times and never spoke again.
Mrs. Young was 65 years of age. Her maiden name was Caroline Jane Wildason and her home had been in Yellow Springs since shortly after her marriage. She was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and very much interested and active in the church and Sunday school.
She is survived by four children; Ernest Young of Minneapolis, Russell Young of Columbus, Howard Young of Yellow Springs and Mrs. W. J. Hammon of Columbus. She also leaves three sisters.
Funeral services will be held at the home Tuesday at 2 o'clock, and interment will be made in the cemetery at Donaldsburg, which town was Mrs. Young's girlhood home.

QUIET REIGNS IN LIVERPOOL AFTER NIGHT OF RIOTING

Liverpool, August 4.—Following a night of rioting in the general strike, soldiers armed with fixed bayonets and policemen restored order early today.
Time and again the troops and police charged the mobs of rioters and looters before they were dispersed about 3 o'clock.
There was an extension of the walk-out when the street car employees struck today to enforce their demand for back pay.
The situation is serious and martial law exists in the business and residential districts. The trouble has been aggravated by the strike of part of the policemen, about one half of the force being out.

CALL SYMPATHY STRIKE.
London, Aug. 4.—Locomotive engineers and firemen on the London and Southwestern railway went on strike in sympathy with the striking policemen. Two thousand men are idle and both passenger and freight service is tied up.

TROOPS USED TO THWART MOB FROM BURNING HOMES OF NEGROES

Chicago, Aug. 4.—Troops patrolling the riot districts which has been comparatively quiet since Friday, were thrown into sudden action early today to thwart a reported attempt of between 500 and 600 white men to burn the negro belt. The troops were dispatched to head off the rioters after 15 reports had been received at the headquarters of Colonel Joseph Wilson, commanding the second regiment, that the mob was assembling.
Arriving at the spot where it was reported the mob was gathering the troops found no crowd but remained on guard and established a careful patrol of the district.
Frank Jacobs, a sign painter, is under arrest today and is said to have confessed that benzine he carried on his person was to be used in starting fires. He is held as a suspect in connection with the disastrous "back of the yards" fire of Saturday.
Six fires were discovered yesterday in the block where Jacobs was arrested.
Negroes formerly employed in the stock yards who expected to return to work today were notified that they would not be allowed to return to the yards. The packers, after a consultation with the authorities, decided that no negroes would be allowed to resume work in the yards until danger of further rioting has entirely passed.

Demonstrations by whites against negroes and by negroes against whites are still frequent in the riot zone, and several attacks were reported to the police. The presence of troops, special deputy sheriffs and police, however, has prevented any serious outbreaks.
Samuel R. Johnson, a negro, is under arrest today charged with the murder of Berger Odman, white, one of the victims of last week's rioting. Johnson is said to have confessed.
A special grand jury to investigate the riots was empaneled today and the state attorney's office began presenting evidence gathered against individuals. Indictments against scores of rioters on charges ranging from disorderly conduct to murder will, it is expected be returned.
Coroner Peter Hoffman has officially fixed the number killed in last week's riot at 33—twenty negro civilians, twelve white civilians and one policeman. The list of injured cared for in hospitals is announced as 306, including 177 blacks and 133 white and 16 on which no report of color has been made.

FOOD PROFITEERS MAY HAVE TO PAY EXCESS PROFIT TAX

Washington, Aug. 4.—A bill designed to check the operations of food profiteers by assessing an excess profit tax on food commodities is under consideration by Senator Capper of Kansas, as a first step in the reduction of the cost of living, he announced today.
"If we can work out such a bill and make its operations entirely fair, it appears to me that it holds out the greatest possibilities of reducing the high cost of living," said the Kansas senator.
"I have the matter under consideration and I may draft a bill which will touch the vital spot. Such legislation could curb the small profiteer as well as the big fellow. The packer isn't the only man who is making large profits, although I must admit that he is an adept. The small dealers are making large profits and an excess profit tax upon them would render their profiteering ineffective."
There is a disposition upon the part of the large packers to shift the blame for high living costs to the retailers, a letter received by Senator Capper today from an official of Armour and Company, indicated. Senator Capper had previously pointed out that while the price of cattle was going down, the price of hogs was going up. In reply the Armour officials declare that the price of beef had been greatly lowered and that the difference had been made up by increasing the price of hogs. He advised Senator Capper to investigate the activities of retail shoe dealers and handlers of other by-products, suggesting that an inquiry would show huge profits by the retailers.
President Wilson returned early today from his week end cruise aboard the Mayflower and was to devote considerable part of the day to the cost of living situation. Whether he will address congress on the cost of living and the railroad problem growing out of the evident unwillingness of the railroad men to await a decision by a commission on the wage question, will depend to a large extent upon developments at the cabinet meeting tomorrow. The sub-committee on the food situation, composed of Walker, D. Hines, railway director, R. C. Leffingwell and W. B. Clover, will lay before the entire presidential committee certain proposals which will be submitted at tomorrow's meeting of the cabinet.
Representatives of the large packing house were to be called before a senate committee today to tell what they know of the high prices. The committee which is investigating living costs in the district of Columbia, has summoned packer representatives to learn whether there is any combination fixing prices. Though the investigation deals only with the situation within the district, there is every indication that its scope will be broadened.

WARNING ISSUED TO JAPAN REGARDING SHANTUNG POLICY

Paris, Aug. 4.—A warning to Japan that her Shantung policy is gaining her world enmity, was published by Philippe Millet in the Midi today. M. Millet is diplomatic and financial expert of the newspaper.
"Japan should immediately make known her secret proposal to the council of four regarding restitution of territory in the Shantung peninsula to China," wrote M. Millet. "The Japanese charge d'affaires at Washington, Mr. Bebutchi, has announced that Japan cannot make known her intention until China signs the Versailles treaty. This means that China must first put the rope around her own neck.
"If Japan does not take steps to satisfy the American people she will have public opinion against her."
"The Shantung trouble is a graver matter than is generally believed. It is really an 'Alsace-Lorraine' question, arising in the Pacific. It is to Japan's interest to hold out against the United States when Great Britain and France cannot fail but support America in this dispute.
"The Japanese government, no doubt wrongly, has for some time had the reputation of being double faced—one of them looking towards Prussian militarism. Such ambiguity is an anachronism at a time when the psychology of the masses cannot be ignored. With one word Japan can settle the unrest she is creating and it is surprising her wise and experienced statesmen do not see this."

SEES UPEHAVAL IN UNITED STATES IF HIGH COST OF LIV- ING CONTINUES.

William G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, who recently appeared before the Wage Adjustment Board in Washington in connection with the high cost of living problem which has stirred official Washington. Mr. Lee, referring to the demand of trainmen that wages must be increased or food prices must come down, told the board that an increase in wages was not the proper solution of the problem. Increases in wages, he said, would only be followed by new increases in the cost of everything, which would more than absorb the additional pay. Until all classes get together to stop "profiteering," he said, the only thing for everyone to do is to get all the wages he can, a course which, he declared, would result eventually in precipitating the "upheaval" now staring the country in the face.

SOLUTION OF FIUME PROBLEM IS FOUND

Paris, Aug. 4.—After many months of discussions an amicable solution of the Fiume problem has been found, the Petit Journal stated today.
Foreign Minister Tittoni already has agreed to a compromise and will go to London soon to work out the details with Premier Lloyd George, according to the Petit Journal.
Fiume, which was claimed by both Italy and Jugoslavia, will be subject to a special statute, appealing the desires of the Italian residents, but the Jugoslavs will be allowed to use the port as a "sea window."
The settlement, it is said, will be worked out along the lines of President Wilson's proposals.

MEMORIAL MAY TAKE FORM OF COUNTY HOSPITAL

While nothing definite has been done regarding a county memorial for the soldiers of Greene county, the committee named some time ago to consider the matter has been quietly preparing to start a campaign this fall to secure funds to provide a suitable memorial.

The committee has not determined upon the nature of the memorial, but it is determined that it shall be something that shall stand for years as a monument to the soldiers of the county.

There seems to be a general feeling that the memorial should not be in the nature of a useless shaft, but should take the form of some kind of a memorial building which could be dedicated to the soldiers of the county and could be used by all the people of the county.

At first several members of the committee favored a memorial building similar to the one located in Dayton. More recently, the proposition of providing a memorial hospital has been considered, and this idea seems to have gained general support. Physicians who have been consulted are especially interested in the hospital idea and they say that such a project would have the support not only of every physician in the county, but every citizen as well.

John W. Prugh, who is chairman of the committee, announces that he desires the physicians of the county to name a committee to meet with the general committee when a meeting is called at a later date.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS SHOULD BE PRESENT AT MEETING TONIGHT

Members of the different committees appointed last week to assist in the arrangements for the soldiers home-coming celebration which is planned for this city on Labor Day, are impressed with the importance of being at the meeting which is to be held in the rooms of the Xenia Business Men's Association Monday evening at 7:45 o'clock.

All of the committee heads and members are expected to be present by Chairman John W. Prugh, as at this time the work necessary to carry on the arrangements for the event will be outlined and activities started at once insure the success of the celebration. It is urgent that every committeeman be present at the appointed hour. Through an oversight the name of Harry Higgins was omitted from the printed list of committeemen. He will have charge of organizing the Knights of Columbus which with other church, patriotic and fraternal organizations will have a large part in the celebration.

RED CROSS BOOTH WILL BE FEATURE OF COUNTY FAIR

A Red Cross booth which will be maintained in the educational exhibit at the county fair, promises to be one of the most interesting features of the week at the fairgrounds.

The Junior Red Cross and the Public health and home service work will be exploited, with Mrs. M. R. Snodgrass, a graduate nurse in charge of the latter feature and Mrs. W. O. Custis in charge of the Junior Red Cross.

Mrs. Lula C. Quisenberry, local home service secretary for the Red Cross will have her headquarters at the booth and will be ready to give any information wanted by soldiers and their families in relation to home service. Demonstrations of the Junior Red Cross and public health work will be given.

An effort is being made to establish the Junior Red Cross in the schools of the city. Last year the county schools took up the plan but the matter was not given consideration in the city schools. The idea of the Junior Red Cross is primarily to establish health habits in children. Mrs. Harrison Ewing of Cleveland, state superintendent of the Junior Red Cross work in the state will be here the first week in September to address the teachers at the county institute.

THEATERS

Orphium.

Pretty little Shirley Mason has a pretty Japanese romance as her vehicle in "The Unwritten Code," which appears at the Orphium Theater Tuesday.

Matt Moore, who is growing in popularity like his brother Tom and the rest of the Moore family has the supporting role and Ormi Hawley, clever screen star, also has a strong part in the production. Pretty Japanese scenes enhance the beauty of the screen classic and a delightful story completes all that is necessary. Frank O'Connor, T. Tomamoto and F. Wadi compose the balance of the cast.

BIJOU.

Popular Tom Moore will be attraction enough at the Bijou Theater Tuesday evening when he appears in his latest Goldwyn release "One of the Finest."

Likeable Tom has the role of a mounted policeman in his new picture, an entirely different type of character for him. His charming personality and his versatile ability identify this picture as well as former successes.

FIEND WHO BOMBED ATTORNEY'S HOME STILL AT LARGE

Los Angeles, August 4.—While the condition of former U. S. Attorney Oscar Lawler and Mrs. Lawler was reported slightly improved the police had no trace early today of the fiend who placed two nitroglycerine bombs under their home early Sunday morning, destroying the residence.

Mr. Lawler was burned about the head and face, the breast, back, arms and legs. His head also was injured when he leaped to the ground from a second story window.

Mrs. Lawler was burned about the face, breast, arms and legs. She suffered a broken collar bone when her husband dropped her to an awning from the window from which he later leaped. Mrs. Lawler rolled from the awning and dropped to the lawn.

CHAUTAUQUA IS GUARANTEED FOR THE COMING YEAR

The Redpath Chautauqua is assured for Xenia again next season.

Without urging a sufficient number of signers to guarantee the return of the assembly in the summer of 1920 had been secured by Saturday night to justify the announcement which was made from the platform that local people can look forward to another delightful season for the Chautauqua.

The local Women's Christian Temperance Union which backed the Chautauqua this year regarding the sale of tickets has taken responsibility for doing the same next season. This organization realized a little over $200 from the sale, the largest sum that has been realized by any Xenia society which guaranteed the ticket sale. The contract gives the local organization selling the tickets one half of the sum realized from the sale of tickets over $1,500. Over $400 was the total sum received, one half went to the Chautauqua people.

The Chautauqua closed Sunday night when Captain Paul Bewsher, of the British Air Forces told his wonderful experiences as a night bomber. The Weber male quartette gave a concert in the afternoon and a musical prelude at night.

Miss Katherine Ridgeway, a reader who had already established a fine reputation in this city as a reader through her appearances on the star courses, gave miscellaneous readings Saturday night. The other Saturday attraction was the Kyril Orchestral Sextette.

COURT NEWS

Isadore Friedman, proprietor of the Famous Store and the Famous Auto and Supply Company, and well known man about town, was sued for divorce today by Mrs. Tillie Barnett Friedman, who bases her action on many and detailed charges.

They were married in Columbus March 11, 1908. Mrs. Friedman says that her husband possessed no property of consequence when they were married, and that she contributed practically all the original capital to enable him to engage in business, and that her financial assistance has enabled him to accumulate real and personal property worth about $40,000. She says that she has thereby an interest, both legal and equitable as a partner in the business of the defendant, and asks the court to make an equitable division of the property on that basis.

The matter came before Judge Kyle Monday morning on a hearing for temporary alimony and other allowances. The court granted Mrs. Friedman $25 a week alimony pendente lite, and $150 counsel fees during the pendency of the suit, to be paid to the clerk of the court. The plaintiff was given the custody of the elder child, Nanette, aged 10 years, and the defendant custody of the three year old son Robert, pending the final hearing.

Alleging wilful absence William O. Parks has brought suit for divorce from Rosa A. Parks whom he married January 1, 1904. He asks for custody of the two children.

Alleging gross neglect and cruelty Lou E. Dickenson has sued for divorce from Robert G. Dickenson and custody of the minor children and alimony. They were married July 4, 1893 at Catlettsburg, Ky., and have seven children. The plaintiff avers that the defendant deserted her December 22, 1918, and is working at Akron.

WILL VISIT SOLDIER SON IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. G. J. Smith and her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Smith Scott are leaving tonight for Ft. Sheridan, Ill., near Chicago, to see Sergeant Major William J. Smith, who is in the base hospital at that post. Sergeant Major Smith underwent an operation while he was in Germany with the army of occupation several months ago. He was convalescing very favorably but the trip home set his health back, and he notified his parents that he had been told it would be probably three months before he could leave the hospital.

CUT WHEAT PRICE ADVOCATED BY GOVERNOR COX

Columbus, O., August 4.—"Knock out the props—the main one being the high price of wheat—and the structure of the high cost of living will tumble," declared Gov. Cox, in a statement made public here today.

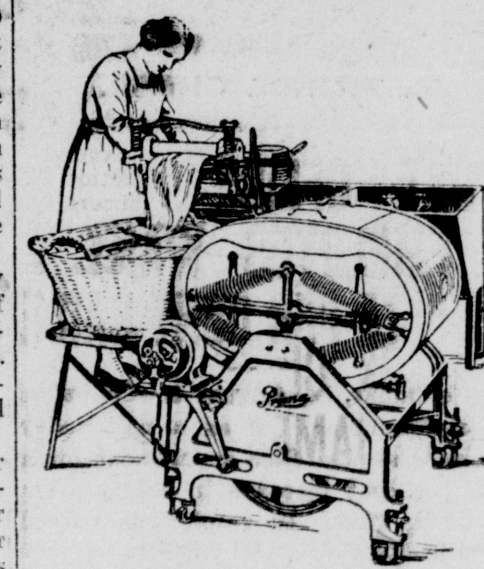

"Let us reduce the present artificial price of wheat approximately to the level held by wheat before the war," continued Governor Cox. "Having been guaranteed a fixed price for the wheat this year, the growers should be fairly dealt with. The government can do this by making up to the farmers the deficiency between the guaranteed price of $2.26 a bushel and a new price.

"Of course, this will entail a considerable loss to the government, but the government cheerfully is taking necessary losses on other war enterprises. Thus, it is scrapping nitrate plants and other war industries and taking what it can get for the salvage. "The government should not hesitate, therefore, to scrap the wartime price of wheat as quickly as possible, and take the loss which will result.

AIRPLANES WORTH A MILLION DOLLARS BURNED IN FRANCE

Pile of U. S. airplanes at Colombes-les-Belles, France, just before and shortly after torch was applied.

A congressional sub-committee is investigating the destruction in France by U. S. army officers of $1,000,000 worth of airplanes, said to have been in perfect condition when they were piled up and burned. One reason given for the destruction of the machines was the desire on the part of the officers to stimulate the production of airplanes in the United States.

THREE GOOD RACES MARK CLOSING DAY OF JAMESTOWN FAIR

Three good races and some fast miles marked the Saturday overflow races at the Jamestown Fair, when the steppers who could not get away because of the rain Thursday were started.

There were three events carried out, all of them regularly scheduled for Friday. The 2:18 trot did not fill and was not held but the other races were particularly gratifying to the fans. The 2:25 trot was the feature event of the afternoon, going seven heats. At the end of the fourth heat, each of four horses held a neat a piece, Dynamo G, beating Queen Alex in the seventh heat for the race and first money.

The 2:30 pace was won in straight heats by Goldie J. In quick time and the 2:12 pace was also a straight heat affair. Bessie T., taking the race and first money. ### IS AMERICAN STATESMAN- SHIP DEFUNCT?

The United States is being placed in the position of blocking virtually all steps toward a readjustment of the world, and particularly of Europe, to a basis of peace. There are growing indications that the Allied powers are waiting to see what their "associate," the United States, is going to do with the treaty before they themselves take definite action.

The nations of Europe, including the enemy powers, are waiting to learn whether President Wilson spoke for the people of the United States in Paris or whether he spoke only for himself and his own ideals. It is certain Germany will not take the treaty seriously until it is ratified by the United States Senate. Germany knows that without the whole-souled support of the United States her European enemies will not be able to bring about the fulfillment of all the provisions of the treaty.

Every one in Washington knows how the treaty fight will end, unless some untoward happening in Europe should completely change the situation. The treaty will be ratified with a few reservations or interpretations which will not require the consent of any of the other nations but which will make the attitude of the United States perfectly plain. These interpretations will be based upon the Root-Taft-Hughes-Hays programs which coincide at many points and offer the basis of a satisfactory agreement.

Probably not more than ten of the ninety-six members of the Senate are in favor of this long delay and hopeless attempts to kill the treaty by amendment. Yet these ten determined men can carry out their program until they exhaust their own physical powers and the patience of the whole people of the country.

Thus, although a satisfactory solution is in sight—one which would command the votes of two-thirds of the Republicans and all but two or three of the Democrats—now will probably fly before the radicals permit the common-sense program to be carried out.

While the world thus awaits to see what the most powerful of the Allied and associated group of nations intends to do before framing individual programs in support of international arrangements, the Senate of the United States, now all-powerful so far as the treaty is concerned, announces in effect that the world can continue to wait, regardless of consequences, until the senators weary themselves with playing politics.

SCHOOL DISTRICTS SEEK MORE FUNDS

Three school districts in Greene county will take advantage of the opportunity given them by the legislature in the special school bill to vote on an extra two mill levy outside the Smith one per cent law, at the primary election August 12, for the purpose of obtaining financial relief. Jamestown village school district, Jefferson township school district and Selma Special School district will hold special elections for this purpose.

MOTORAIDS

Do not neglect to put a wrench on every nut and bolt on your car at least once a month, and on the steering connections once a week. No other machine receives the racking that does an automobile, and it is impossible to keep the motor together if the nuts and bolts are not attended to frequently.

The use of the self starter prevents one from keeping in close touch with his motor, as he should. Where we used to crank the motor to start it, we found out if it was properly lubricated and if the compression was or was not good. Whenever there is any loss of power noticed, the starting handle should be used to see if the crankshaft turns freely and the compression is all right. Do it now while the engine is in proper condition, and then you will have a basis for comparison when anything goes wrong.

"THROUGH PANAMA"—AND A NEW DEAL.

It is not without a high significance that Admiral Rodman should take his great fleet of dreadnoughts and supporting vessels through the Panama Canal with, as he puts it picturesquely, "No more trouble than sending a fleet of tugboats through the Great Lakes," at the very time that the Senate has concluded to ratify the new Colombian treaty. For there is every reason, in view of the new international relationships which the world war has set up, that we should have no misunderstanding with any South American nation that raises the question of our good faith or of our beneficent intentions in the matter of our natural and admitted leadership in the western hemisphere. We can therefore easily afford to pay Colombia twenty-five million. And the waiving of apologetic expressions that might easily be viewed as an unnecessary act of abnegation on our part having already been determined on, leaves nothing in the new treaty which reflects on our dignity or honor, the money reparation to Colombia in itself expressing such regrets.

With Colombia satisfied, therefore, the first triumphant use of the canal by the new navy may well be hailed with joy by all. And the demonstrations of the strategic value of the canal day prove all that the advocates of the canal ever claimed for it. And since, under the scheme of the league of nations, a navy such as ours at any time may have its police duty cut out for it, it is a happy omen that the brilliant spectacle of the fleet passing majestically and easily through that marvel of engineering resourcefulness and revealing a mobility that doubles our defense in hours, as it were, makes not for the menace of the world peace, but for the tranquillity not only in the Pacific, but of the seven seas and shores as well. There is no reason for South or for Central America, happily for us at this juncture, to misunderstand this magnificent gesture of the United States navy, as our Latin friends would phrase it.

SANDRA THE JEALOUS

BY JANE PHELPS.

BARRETT EDMONDS CALLS UP ON SANDRA.

CHAPTER XXXI.

I was glad to be relieved of the responsibilities of dinner giving, etc. But I couldn't help feeling a little hurt when I wasn't even consulted. I was the mistress of the house, yet in all ways treated by Everett more as his daughter than his wife. Naturally, the servants took their cue from him, and even Mrs. Gray gradually stopped talking things over with me as she had at first, and went ahead as if the house were her own; and probably as she had done before Everett married me.

Everett had hired a butler before we commenced to entertain, so that now we had six servants—Mrs. Gray and Hetty, Richard and the butler, Peter, the chauffeur, and a laundress. At home we never had but the two old negroes who had done everything for us—that is, all save what mother herself did.

I felt that I had quite an establishment, and while, as I have said, I had not the slightest desire to have the responsibility of running it—I knew very well I was not capable—I should have liked them to ask my opinion occasionally. I said nothing of this to Everett, but as the weeks passed it became another grievance, one which I also laid to the fact of my youth.

I had met Barrett Edmonds several times since that supper dance and each time I liked him better. He had a frank, boyish way that was very attractive. His fine, dark eyes would light up and he would appear so interested that I felt flattered. When I was with him I forgot to fret because I was not older; and just laughed and chatted as I had done with the boys at home.

Barrett was very fond of music—one would know that if they ever danced with him. When he found I sang, and played my own accompaniments, he asked if he might come in some afternoon and bring me some of his favorite songs.

"I make a big noise myself at times," was the way he told me he sang. Afterwards I learned that he had a wonderful baritone voice, which had been highly cultivated.

I was delighted to tell him that he might call. Then afterwards I was a bit frightened. Perhaps Everett would object. At first I thought I would tell him. Then I recalled that Mr. Edmonds had set no time for a call. He might forget all about it—I would wait.

But I blushed as I pretended to think he might forget—I knew he wouldn't. I also knew I did not want him to. It was so nice to have someone to talk to; someone who treated you like a human being, and did not either patronize or make fun of you. I wanted to be taken seriously. No one seemed to think me worth while.

My birthday was the seventh of February. Everett had spoken of having another dinner party; but I had begged him to take me to a play instead. For once he agreed to do as I wished—but I think he had not really made up his mind that HE wanted a dinner party, so he didn't care.

At breakfast he gave me my birthday present—a bond for a thousand dollars, and a dainty, flexible bracelet.

"I shall try to give you a bond on each birthday. One never knows what may happen in business." Then he showed me about cutting the coupons.

I was delighted. It made me feel quite important, and I told him so. He seemed pleased that I liked my gifts. Before he left, a package came from home—a remembrance from everyone, even from Buster. There was nothing expensive, but dainty embroidered napkins from mother, books from father and the boys. It was nice to be remembered.

After Everett went I showed them all to Mrs. Gray and Hetty. They both acted mysterious, although they praised my gifts. But I paid little attention, and ran up stairs to put

SCHOOL GIRL TELLS OTHERS

How They Can Find Relief
From Periodic Sufferings.

Nashua, N. H.—"I am nineteen years old and every month for two years I had such pains that I would often faint and have to leave school. I had such pain I did not know what to do with myself and tried so many remedies that were of no use. I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in the newspapers and decided to try it, and that is how I found relief from pain and feel so much better than I used to. When I hear of any girl suffering as I did I tell them how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me."—DELINA MARTIN, 29 Bowers St., Nashua, N. H.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, therefore is a perfectly safe remedy to give your daughter, who suffers from such painful periods as did Miss Martin.

The reason so many girls write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for advice, is because from their 40 years experience they have a store of knowledge which is invariably helpful.

them away. Everett was going to take the bond down town and get a safety box in my name. But I begged him to leave it with me for the day.

"Very well," he had smiled at me for my request. "You may go with me tomorrow and get a box."

I spent the morning writing letters home, thanking them all and telling of Everett's gifts. After luncheon I had about decided to go out when Hetty came up and announced Mr. Edmonds.

I was in a perfect flutter of delight. It had been my first call from a young man since I had been married—really from any YOUNG person, either man or woman. I glanced in the mirror, then hurried down to the drawing room.

"I have brought some music. If you are not going out, and have time, we might try a piece or two," he said, after I had greeted him.

"How did you know it was my birthday?" I asked gaily, just as I would have asked one of the boys at home. "This will make it perfect." Then I told him of my gifts, and that I was going to a play in the evening. "I had almost decided to go somewhere this afternoon. I am so glad I didn't."

"So am I. I wish I had known it was your birthday. I should have remembered you with some flowers. I wanted to as it was, but feared you might think me presumptuous."

Tomorrow—Sandra Has a Happy Birthday.

John C. Ryne, aged 48, native and lifelong resident of Beavertown, died early Sunday morning at his home following abdominal injuries suffered Saturday morning when he was struck by a broken single tree. Don't burn good fuel in a poor stove

It's a useless waste of good fuel and a needless extravagance to try to burn it in a poor stove. It is absolutely wrong to expect good food to supply energy, vitality, health and happiness if your stomach won't absorb and assimilate it. If you cannot eat with enjoyment, if your food does you no good, if food distresses rather than benefits, then you have indigestion or dyspepsia. The best remedy to use is PEP SINCO.

Ask your druggist—he sells and recommends Pepsinco.

CHILDREN STARVING, SAYS LABOR BUREAU.

Washington, Aug. 4.—From three to six million American children are not getting enough to eat because their parents are unable on their present incomes to buy sufficient food, said a statement issued today by the children's bureau of the department of labor. These are the children, the statement said, who are often pronounced by parents and teachers to be "delicate," "ailing," "lazy," or just "plain ornery," although their true affliction is malnutrition. The number of school children in the United States who are not getting sufficient food was placed at from 15 to 25 per cent.

GIVES OPINION ABOUT DISPOSAL OF CONSTANTINOPLE

Recently Prof. W. S. Scarborough, president of Wilberforce University, received a letter from Paul Demos, president of the American Association of the Greek Community of Chicago, requesting him to submit his opinion regarding the disposal of Constantinople. The association believes that Greece is the logical claimant for Constantinople.

In response Prof. Scarborough wrote the following letter:

Mr. Paul Demos, President of American Association of Greek Community, Chicago.
Dear Sir:
Your favor is received asking my opinion upon the question as to the disposal of Constantinople. I gladly comply with your request. I am thoroughly in sympathy with Greece. My long study of its language and literature has made me decidedly Greek in spirit. My admiration and goodwill have always been unbounded for the country that first gave to the world the full idea of human liberty.

The city of Constantinople—Constantinople—is undoubtedly Greek and not Turkish—Greek by name, by a multitude of associations and by inherent rights to exclusive Greek control. It should be given to its rightful owner. Any other disposition of this famous capital would be rank injustice.

The Turkish dominion extending from 1453 makes some 466 years since this city has been occupied by this barbarous people and the time has now come for a change. Turkey does the Allied Forces. That country has by its numberless atrocities and inhumanities put itself outside the pale of the sympathies of civilization. To place Constantinople under Greek control will be to help on to the final accomplishment the long sought freedom of nations, the true world democracy and world peace. A treaty of peace that does not include this change is defective.

By all means let Constantinople be given to Greece.

Yours very truly,
W. S. SCARBOROUGH, Pres.

OHIO FOURTH IN LINE AS TO NUMBER OF TAXABLE INCOMES

Washington, Aug. 4.—Income tax returns were filed by 3,472,890 persons, about three per cent of the population, for the calendar year 1917, according to final reports just completed by the bureau of internal revenue. They showed total net income of $13,652,383,207. The returns for 1916, before the law was expanded to meet war expenses, was $3,035,854, and $7,353,805,587 in net income, the former being so much greater, comparatively, because the extension of the law took in small incomes previously exempt.

Taxes paid totaled $675,249,450, an average of $368.56 per individual, or 6.03 per cent of the income.

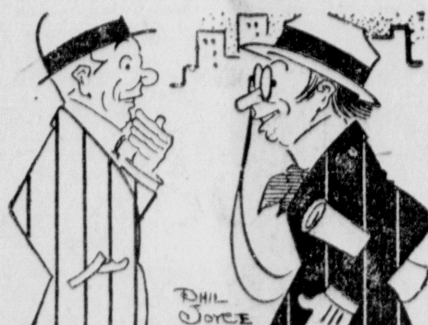

A notable feature of the report was the showing that while there were 1,296 incomes over $300,000 in 1916, the number was reduced to 1,015 in 1917. The million-dollar incomes decreased from 206 to 143, and the decrease in the amount reported by persons in that class was $157,427,730.

The million-dollar men, however, paid more taxes than any other class, contributing $109,424,999 to the government, out of $306,835,914 in income reported. Persons with incomes of $2,000 to $3,000 paid the smallest amount of taxes, $9,907,378 on returns of $2,461,137,000.

Residents of New York made more returns and reported more income than any other state. Pennsylvania and Illinois ranking second and third, Massachusetts ranked fourth in income reported, but Ohio came fourth in the number of taxable incomes.

A Nincompoop.

"Nincompoop" is a most entirely satisfying and refined way of calling a person a fool or blockhead or a simper. It is a corruption of the Latin phrase "non compos mentis"—not sound of mind. Besides being satisfying and refined it has a classical origin in addition.

DAYTON MEN ARE HELD FOLLOWING DEATH OF FARMER

Dayton, Aug. 4.—Herbert Dodds, 27 and Louis Wilson, 23, both claiming Dayton as their home, and Sergeant Bail Jacobs, 27, of the United States army air forces, who says he has been stationed at the Dayton-Wright Airplane company's acceptance park, are held by the police at Bucyrus, according to dispatches from that city last night.

They are said to have been arrested in Marion, and returned to Bucyrus, following the death of John C. Krauter, a wealthy farmer aged 73, who was run down and killed by an automobile as he was crossing the road in front of his home, two miles north of that city.

According to the message from Bucyrus, the driver of the machine struck the aged man did not stop after the accident.

Dodds is employed by the Welbon Motor Sales company, 223-226 West Third street, and resides with his wife at 357 South Bowen street. Wilson, who is also said to be known by the name of Welsh, is employed by the same concern, while Sergeant Jacobs is only a temporary employee. According to Mrs. Dodds, the men left here Friday night for Cleveland to drive some new Chandler cars through to this city.

PERSHING'S HUMOR

From the Times-Star.

There is a certain young officer who, according to his own story, is thanking his stars that General Pershing had a sense of humor.

"Some of my men were Polish, and better soldiers never lived, but I guess in Poland life has been one long sad story. Anyway, I never ran across a bunch who took things so literally. One night the Germans sent over a three-inch shell that landed square in our trench. In the morning I told one of my men, Pete, we called him to take it away."

"Where shall I take it?" he asked. "Oh, anywhere," I answered, peevishly; "put it to bed in Pershing's tent."

"A little later a brother officer came along and said: 'The old man wants you, and there's something doing.'"

"I couldn't imagine what was up until I stood before the chief. He eyed me sternly and then pointed to his bunk and would you believe it, there was that blamed shell. Pete here Friday night for Cleveland to drive some new Chandler cars through to this city. suddenly began to smile. He said: 'I just want to caution you not to order Pete to capture Berlin until the rest of us are ready to go with him. He might go and do it, you know."

INTERESTING IF TRUE.

Little Falls, N. Y., Aug. 4.—Seven years ago a farmer hung his vest on a fence. A calf chewed up a pocket in which was a gold watch.
Last week the animal was butchered and the timepiece was found between the lungs of the cow.
Respiration kept the stem winder wound up, and the watch lost but four minutes in the seven years.

SAYS "CHARMERS" ARE FAKES

Writer Describes Method by Which East Indians Play on Ignorance of Their Fellows.

A method by which snake charmers dupe ignorant people in India is thus described: One of them puts a harmless snake, in a stupefied condition, into a house, and his companion then tells the women of the house that he has noticed a poisonous snake there. The people are alarmed and offer a reward to the snake charmer to remove the snake. He declares it to be a deadly poisonous one and asks a good sum of money for the exploit, which, he says, may cost him his life. The reward is fixed and the money paid. The snake charmer, wearing only a loin cloth, commences to play on his bagpipe. The snake, previously rendered harmless, crawls into the middle of the room, and the snake charmer in catching it says that he has been bitten and falls senseless. His companion comes forward and puts a snake stone on an incision previously made for the purpose on the man's finger. The snake charmer at once recovers and gets up. His audience is much astonished and gives a big present to the cured snake charmer, who departs with the snake and the profit he has made.

NURSE HAD INGENIOUS IDEA

Surely if Use of Makeup Was Ever Justified, It Could Be Defended in This Case.

A laugh is going the rounds over the stunt pulled by one of the attendants at the orphanage who had waxed enthusiastic in the work of finding parents for her little charges.

On this particular occasion she had interested a young couple in a three-months-old baby and they had promised to call the following day with a view to taking the infant if she was the dainty dimpled cherub the attendant said she was.

And in the meantime the baby contracted a cold, which, on the day she was to be inspected, had left her thin and pallid. The nurse knew that the child's chances for being adopted were very slim.

Suddenly she hit on an idea. A lip stick and a box of rouge. The very things to make the pallid Nancy into a rose-faced cherub.

And so the fairy godmother, being a sophisticated person, painted the lip, and Nancy, with a complexion like roses and cream, charmed her prospective parents and everyone was happy.—Los Angeles Times.

Greatest Bliss Is Congenial Work.

There is no greater happiness in life than doing the work you love. It matters not what the work is—to some women it is embroidery, or writing a book, or baby tending, or studying chemistry, or cooking, or keeping a house polished. It does not always happen that we have great ability in the thing we enjoy doing—although the chances are that this is so. For nothing stimulates you to continued effort in a piece of work more than the consciousness that you do it well.

And so if you are unhappy—genuinely unhappy—in the work you're doing, try to find out what it is that you'd prefer to do. If there is nothing else in your mind, then perhaps your discontent is only temporary. But if you sincerely wish to do some other definite piece of work, you have a legitimate grievance and you owe it to yourself to pave the way for a new shot at a new occupation.

The Open Window.

Mr. Walter Winans, writing in the Saturday Review on the open window, says: The Russian peasants, in whose huts I have lived in very severe winters, seal up the windows hermetically during the whole winter (double windows), and they have warm water to wash in, and do not break the ice to wash as people fond of open windows have to do. In Petrograd some years ago twelve Englishmen started a bathing society to break holes in the ice of the Neva and have a cold plunge every morning. Before the spring they were all dead, and I have never heard of a case of a foreigner (the Russians, of course, never do so) who lived through a Russian winter and slept with his bedroom window open.

Family Life.

Not for nothing have we been grouped in families, neighborhoods, nations; and he who will not recognize the divinely appointed nearness to himself of some over others, who thinks himself to be a cosmopolite without being a patriot, a philanthropist without owning a distinguishing love for them that are peculiarly his own, who would thus have a circumference without having a center, deceives his own heart, and affirming all men to be equally dear to him is indeed affirming them to be equally indifferent.

Dog Birds.

Dog-birds are small, brownish denizens of the New South Wales southeastern tablelands, between Lake George and the Snowy mountains. They derive their name from the manner of their language. They may easily be mistaken for a family of young terriers having an early lesson in barking. A ragged stick nest, with lateral entrance, not readily distinguishable from any old bundle of twigs suspended in the fork of a tree, forms the kennel of the feathered poodle, and there he rears broods of pup-birds year after year if unmolested.

JAMES HOLMES DIES IN COLUMBUS ON SUNDAY MORNING

James Holmes, former well known Greene County resident passed away at his home in Columbus at one o'clock Sunday morning. Death was due to the infirmities of old age.

Mr. Holmes was born in Greene County and had lived practically all his life here. He was 87 years of age at the time of his death. He was married twice, his first wife being Miss Jennie Hopping, who preceded him in death with three children a number of years ago. Two children of the union survive, a son and daughter living in the west. His second wife was Miss Ardella Hawthorne of Cadiz, Ohio, who also preceded him in death. One daughter of this union, Miss Rosella Holmes, has been living at home with her father.

Mr. Holmes was a farmer in Greene County but had left here seven years ago to go to Columbus where he lived at 127 Clarendon Avenue. He was a son of the late William and Nancy Finney Holes. He was a member of the First U. P. Church in this city.

The remains will arrive here at 2:58 Tuesday afternoon and will be taken immediately to the chapel in Woodland where services will be conducted by Rev. D. D. Dodds. Burial in Woodland.

THE KISS AND MAKE-UP.
(From the Nebraska Awgwan.)

Two pretty girls met in the street and kissed each other rapturously. Two young men watched the meeting. "There's another of those things that I hate," said one. "What is that?" said his friend. He pointed to the scene: "Women doing men's work."

Big Lot of Hay Fever Jokes

But Kentucky Man Says—"People Who Belong to Hay Fever Colony are Kidding Themselves."

Wouldn't Be Any Rose or Hay Fever if Simple Home Remedy Was Given a Chance.

"Yes, there's a real NINETY-NINE per cent effective remedy for hay or rose fever," frankly states a druggist in a prosperous Kentucky city.

"But I don't expect anyone to believe me, because the treatment is so easy and the cost not worth mentioning."

"The annual crop of hay-fever jokes would be mighty scarce if people would get an ounce of Mentholized Arzene and just add a drop of water that has been boiled, and the liquid that will prove a real help to all who suffer."

"Many of my hay-fever friends tell me that by starting to gargle and sniff or spray the nostrils a few times a day the expected severe attack often fails to appear and in cases where it does show up is very mild and does not annoy."

"The Better Class of Pharmacists who dispense Mentholized Arzene say it will greatly modify any attack even when taken three or four days after hostilities begin."

Go to a real live druggist when you get ready to make a pint.

SENATOR WARREN G. HARDING IS SPEAKER AT VETERANS' PICNIC

"I am glad to pay my respects to the organized veterans of the world war. I don't know of any affiliated organization in the world today that has so much to do with the weal or woe of the American Republic."

So said Senator Warren G. Harding when he addressed a small but enthusiastic crowd at the first picnic of the American World War Veterans which was held at Kilkare Park Saturday. Senator Harding arrived at shortly before five o'clock in the evening and he was the only one of the scheduled speakers to appear.

"It is rather unusual to be away from Washington," said Senator Harding. "I am sure I am not mistaken when I tell you that men in government affairs are infinitely more oppressed in business after the war than while mustering the forces of the country during the war."

Referring to the future expected of the American World War Veterans he spoke of the organization of the G. A. R., after the Civil War. "The Civil war veterans became the most influential factor that we have had in fifty years of American life. I take off my hat so to speak, to the Civil war veterans. They will never cease to be alive in the spirit of Americanism."

"It is not hard to understand that four million of you men, most of whom have just come to know the affairs of government, will be the dominant influence in American life for the next fifty years. I charge you to think seriously and patriotically on everything on which you concentrate your great organization."

"I know that the American people are grateful," he continued, "grateful for the American expeditionary forces and more grateful for the proof you have that there is in America a patriotism that will save this country. I believe that if it would have been necessary America could have raised twelve million to preserve the perpetuity of this country. Even though we lost 60,000 American lives and thousands of wounded and it costs us 30 billions, it was worth all it cost to find the souls of the American Republic and to find that from this time on America will be American in fact as well as in name. We went to war for civilization's sake, but more than that—for America's sake."

Senator Harding continued in regard to the League of Nations: "I don't think we went to war to run the affairs of the old world. If the new proposal of international peace means that we must call on American boys to fight the battles of Europe or Asia I am against it."

"Out of the turmoil and tumult of war the world civilization has been put in a fluid state—there is nothing solid now. These race riots are a symptom of the agitated emotions of the people after the war. Until the country is tranquilized we may expect these brutal demonstrations to continue. Unless the men who fought to save the country, stand for the righteous things of this country, we may be as chaotic as some of the countries of the old world. We must ever be alert to improve conditions. We must ever move on along rational lines and there is nothing rational in revolution. Nothing can be righteously achieved by reason of the force of numbers."

"I know of the intention of Congress to do everything to show its gratitude to the veterans. Admit all the present problems, the members of Congress are thinking of what ought to be done to do the best for the four million men who went to war. We don't yet know what is best to be done."

Here the Senator said he opposed the Lane bill, which provides to give soldiers reclaimed arid lands in the west.

"Things in life must be won—riches must be acquired by thrift," continued the speaker. "The nation that is thrifty will be the first nation to recover from the blights of the world war and will be the first to go to eminence afterward. Germany with her thrift will very likely be the first nation in the war to recover. We have no need for thrift or no taste for denial in our country with our mode of living. I have gone around with patches on the seat of my pants as big as my two hands," said the Senator laughing.

"I view with solemnity and alarm the tendency in the United States of America to spend all it earns without a heed of tomorrow. It is the thrifty, simple living people, after all who dominate the world," said the Senator.

Senator Harding concluded: "You war veterans who are to become the chief sponsors of American life for years to come, let's uphold the thing for which you offered the supreme sacrifice of your lives. If you will do that we will go on, by influencing the onward movement of civilization throughout the world."

Senator Harding was introduced by Roland H. McKee, of Dayton, who brought him to the park from Dayton where he attended a Republican committee luncheon Saturday noon. His address was heartily received by the few picnicers present and it featured an otherwise featureless day.

Lack of crowd at the park rendered the first picnic of the veterans practically eventless. The scheduled baseball games and athletic contests were not held and Senator Harding was the only one on the list of imposing speakers who spoke. Congressman S. D. Foss was present in the morning to deliver an address but there was not a large enough crowd to speak to. Governor Cox, General Glenn and others did not show up.

The boxing bouts were held at six o'clock in the evening but they were tame affairs. In the first bout Kid Smith went four rounds with Bobbie Burns to a draw. Patsy Cline and Mickey Dunleavy, only went two rounds of a scheduled four round bout. Cline throwing in the sponge when his heart began to bother him.

The wrestling match between Gus Ackermund and Jack Flavis went fifteen minutes without a fall. Kid Grant and Eddie Taylor went four rounds to a draw for the final event. George Ream, referee of the Dayton Gymnastic Club refereed the bouts and G. W. Somers, of the Dayton Y. M. C. A., was timekeeper.

The "Buddy Band" furnished concerts all day long and there was dancing at the park both afternoon and evening, the music being furnished by Mullen's Orchestra of Dayton.

"HIGHER UPS" BLAMED FOR ARMY CRUELTY

Brig. Gen. W. W. Harts (above) and Maj. Gen. F. S. Strong.

Most prominent among the men "higher up" who have been directly charged by witnesses before a congressional investigation committee with responsibility for vile conditions in the American prison camps in France are Brig. Gen. W. W. Harts, former commander of the American troops in the Paris district, and Maj. Gen. F. S. Strong of the Fortieth division.

Col. T. Q. Donaldson of the inspector general's department admitted that responsibility for the conditions in the Paris prisons, concerning which some of the most sensational charges of brutality have been made, must be laid to General Harts.

Senator Harding concluded: "You war veterans who are to become the chief sponsors of American life for years to come, let's uphold the thing for which you offered the supreme sacrifice of your lives. If you will do that we will go on, by influencing the onward movement of civilization throughout the world."

The twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Allen, was celebrated at their home Saturday, August 2nd. Their many friends called between the hours of two and 10 o'clock p. m. to pay their respects and to extend congratulations on this occasion and to wish them a long, and a continued happy and useful matrimonial career. A dainty two course repast was served the guests. The bride was attired in her wedding dress of 25 years ago and carried the same fan and lace handkerchief. The groom wore a beautiful blue suit, the Christmas gift of his church congregation. Promptly at the hour of nine o'clock p. m. the happy couple marched into Middle Run Baptist church of which he is the popular pastor, to the sweet strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Mrs. Ophelia C. Rogers. They marched down the aisles of the church and met at the altar where the marriage scene of a quarter of a century ago, was re-enacted. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. H. Jackson, of Cincinnati, assisted by Rev. G. W. Beeton, of Xenia, and Revs. A. W. Jackson and Sisson, both of Cincinnati, in the presence of the members of his church and a number of intimate friends. WHO GETS IT? We know of a wealthy city gentleman who has a farm for pleasure and profit, and this year has several acres of watermelons. He succeeded in raising the whole crop and recently he had a buyer for a wholesale house to look over them with the view of selling. The buyer looked them over and said: "We are not paying much for melons this year, but can use them at seven cents apiece." The owner asked if that was his best and final bid, and when told that it was, he said: "The neighbors may have them and the pigs eat the rest before that money will buy them."

The only thing to all this is, if they are bought at seven cents and sell at the store from 75c to $1.25, somebody is stealing money instead of making it.—South Charleston Sentinel.

ITALY MAY RECALL AMBASSADOR TO UNITED STATES.

COUNT V. MACCHI DI CELLERE

Count V. Macchi di Cellere, Italian Ambassador to the United States, may be recalled shortly, according to a dispatch from Rome quoting the newspaper Popolo Romano. The newspaper criticized the Ambassador for failing to bring about closer relations between Italy and the United States. Count V. Macchi di Cellere has been Ambassador to the United States since 1913.

The raising of hogs has received a great stimulus during the past two years, as prices have increased over 100 per cent. Never before have such prices been attained, and men who claim to know, state that they never again will reach the old level. This is expected to make men more careful with the raising and caring for hogs. The greater loss has always been over the cholera route. State reports show that in 1916 Ohio lost 250,628 hogs by this disease, and in 1918 but 118,881 died, although the money loss in 1919 was almost a million greater than in 1916. Ohio is the sixth hog producing state in the union.

AND SERVICE.

"On the job"

Certain-teed forms a complete, seamless surface that sheds rain, snow and sleet year after year with almost no attention. It is always "on the job."

The most severe weather makes no impression on Certain-teed—nor can sparks, fumes, gas, smoke or insects impair its protective strength.

Yet Certain-teed costs no more—less in fact than other types of roofs. It is easily and quickly laid by anyone who will follow the simple directions that come with the roll. Upkeep expense is too slight to consider.

Your buildings, old or new—large or small—in city or country—should have the protection of Certain-teed.

Certain-teed is made in rolls, both smooth and rough surfaced, (red or green) also in handsome red or green asphalt shingles for residences. Certain-teed is extra quality—the name means certainty of quality and satisfaction guaranteed. It will pay you to get Certain-teed—most dealers sell it. Ask for Certain-teed and be sure to get it.
